About

After completing 12 years of education in private schools, I am currently pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Information Technology at the National Institute of Business (NIB). Through my academic journey and hands-on projects, I have discovered a strong passion for web design—a field where I excel in both creativity and precision.

I am a detail-oriented and enthusiastic web designer with experience in crafting responsive, user-friendly, and visually engaging websites. I am eager to continue growing professionally, learn new technologies, and contribute my skills to a dynamic and innovative team like ABA Bank.
